"Fantastic, a must see."

Hi-Spots, Mary Ayars

Previously by Mr. Marcello, we were treated to a production of

M.A.S.H

Magnificent, Amazing, Splendid, and Highly Entertaining

The Polaris Players did it again; Vineland High School's rendition of the drama M.A.S.H was excellent. From its detailed and colorful scenery to its hilarious and interesting characters, M.A.S.H had everyone on the edge of their seats in quiet anticipation for the next scene, and most of the time, it had many holding their sides in laughter. The show was full of amusing jokes (one in particular about a lobster trap), unexpected romance, army uniforms, and showgirls who couldn't dance, who could ask for more? Every scene and every character offered something fun and different adding excitement and adventure to an already tremendous show. After the Friday performance, one viewer remarked, "I thought the show was great, I'll probably come and see it tomorrow." The show received such great reviews that for both Friday and Saturday, the talented cast had the joy of performing to full houses. Anyone who was in attendance had the great privilege to witness such a well-done performance. Only one question remains after such a great show, how will next year's top this one?
